AMERICANS TAKE 9500 PRISONERS

By United Press

London, Sept. 13.—In their offensive against St. Mihiel the Americans have captured 60 guns, according to information from the front this afternoon. The advance of the Americans into the St. Mihiel salient from the south has now reached a depth of 8 miles according to information from the front this afternoon. The enemy is blowing up ammunition dumps at Happonville.

Latest reports of the territory taken by the Americans indicate that the neck of the salient has been narrowed to less than 6 miles. If two German divisions were still remaining in the pocket their escape is decidedly improbable. Dispatches from the front report that prisoners taken by the Americans now total 9,500.

The Americans are making progress so rapidly that the situation is increasingly dangerous to the enemy. The town of Zentcourt is reported to have fallen. The attack on the western side of the pocket has run into more difficult country but the Germans have advanced to a depth of 3 miles. German ammunition dumps are also being blown up at Donboux. (This town is not shown on the map but there is a town of Dampzout north of Zentcourt.)

London, Sept. 13.—St. Mihiel at the apex of the salient before Metz has fallen to the French, unofficial reports here today say. (The report of the capture of St. Mihiel was also cabled to the United Press by Frank J. Taylor now on the front.) There is no official confirmation. "West of St. Quentin Savy was occupied," the statement said.

With The Americans On The Metz Front, Sept. 13.—The American advance is continuing today on both sides of the St. Mihiel salient between the Meuse and the Moselle. Additional prisoners are constantly being reported. Rain is falling at intervals. The Germans are having great difficulty in removing their artillery from the salient because of the bad roads. Among the prisoners captured by the Americans was German Count Scheszyng. The Americans found him with his ordrelies with his baggage unpacked waiting to be captured. Among the prisoners taken by the French were 350 Austrians.

Washington, Sept. 13.—The American attack on St. Mihiel was a complete surprise to the Germans, according to reliable information at the War Department today. The Germans were completely "fooled" by the apparent inactivity of the Americans which resulted from direct orders not to fire artillery and not to show any signs of unusual activity up to the appointed hour.

SWANTON GUILTY
OF MANSLAUGHTER

3 P. M. The jury in the case returned a verdict of voluntary manslaughter.

The hearing of testimony in the Swanton murder trial ended yesterday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock and Attorney Liveright immediately began his address to the jury. He made a strong plea for "another chance for the young man" and searchingly dissected the evidence presented which accentuated the prisoner's self-defense plea.

District Attorney Arnold followed in a masterful summing up for the Commonwealth.

At the conclusion of the District Attorney's plea court adjourned. Judge Baldrige announcing that he would deliver his charge to the jury at the convening of court this morning.

Russell Peoples, of Clearfield, one of the jurors, was taken sick at the breakfast table at the Wither Inn this morning and when court called at 9 o'clock was so ill that he was unable to take his place in the jury box and as a result the trial was halted for the time being.

fast this morning was taken violently ill. His left arm and left side of the face was affected and it was feared he had suffered a slight stroke of paralysis. He was able to return to the court house but became worse and Doctor Wilson was summoned.

The doctor diagnosed his trouble as possible ptomaine poisoning and worked with him for some time. Peoples felt able to resume his duties about 11 o'clock and the jury filed into the box and Judge Baldrige began his charge. The jury were given the case and returned to take up their deliberations shortly before the noon recess.

Swanton's father, mother, brother and the wife whom he married while in jail and shortly following the shooting were present in the court room throughout the trial.

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN NARROWS
DOWN TO PARTY CONTROL FIGHT

The fight between Pershing and the Hun has very little on the Bonniwell-Sinnott-Palmer-McCormick controversy within the Democratic party of Pennsylvania when we array the red hot denunciation of Bonniwell by the leaders of the party and the vitriolic comeback of the Horatious of the liquor traffic in this state as published in the city papers of yesterday. The fight between Bonniwell and Vance McCormick probably deserves and requires no place in the columns of this newspaper but since the underlying cause of their trouble is the future control of the government of the state and of the coming presidential campaign it is only right that the true purpose or bone of contention be exposed to the general public.

In these days when the Democratic party is in absolute control of every thing we own or expect to own it is only natural that the influential members of that party engage in a wild scramble to gather up the plums, and while Judge Bonniwell is the champion of the liquor interests in Pennsylvania and therefore must not be allowed to sit in the governor's chair, it must be said of him, to his credit, that he has not been willing to be the tool and plaything of McCormick and Palmer. It is possible and probable that had McCormick and Palmer treated Bonniwell with the courtesy that was due him as the candidate of the party the Judge would not have been such a rabid defender of King Alcohol. Palmer as Alien Property Custodian and McCormick as National Committeeman of the great Democratic Party, insisted that the gubernatorial candidate should be of their choosing and, if not of their choosing, of their absolute control. Apparently Judge Bonniwell sensed this and being a man of determined nature and a fighter for his principles he made a bid for the support of the liquor traffic and with that support is giving the administration forces the fight of their lives.

Clearfield county voters will do well to remember these few points: The activity of Palmer, McCormick and their cohorts in this county are purely and solely for the purpose of maintaining control of the state organization for the coming presidential election. Their political acts have been such as to disrupt their party and they now seek to throw out the Democratic candidate for governor, who was selected at the primary by the voters, simply because he refuses to do as they want him to do. Their pernicious activity is seen in the many appointments that have been made from this community most of which have been in return for services rendered and hop-overs to their ranks.

There is every likelihood that the state organization will dump Bonniwell and put someone on the ticket for the administration office holders to vote for. While we cannot commend Judge Bonniwell because of his platform founded on beer logs it does appear that from a political standpoint there is no course open for respecting the voters of the Democratic party but to cast their vote for Bonniwell as the lesser of the two evils. For those who voted the last time as Democrats because "he kept us out of war" there is a haven in the Republican party where they can vote for Wm. C. Sprout, a business man who is able and capable of being governor of this great commonwealth and who comes to the voters with a clean record. Besides, they get in line for the coming election of a president when the Republican party will put forth a "win the war" ticket that will stand for two fast fighting of the Hun, giving our boys airplanes, rifles and ammunition without reserve and will depend more on shot and shell than on propaganda and notes.

"Fixer" Also a Democrat
Senator Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, yesterday was disclosed by Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell as the man who arranged the famous conference between A. Mitchell Palmer and John Sinnott which gave to Mr. Palmer the basis of his charges that Judge Bonniwell is the paid agent and tool of Senator Penrose and the liquor interests and a candidate whose purpose it is to deceive the people of Pennsylvania. John Sinnott is president of the Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association of Pennsylvania.

The assertion that Senator Underwood was the "go-between" in bringing about the meeting between Palmer and Sinnott was made in a formal reply to the charges made by Mr. Palmer before the Democratic State Committee at Harrisburg last week when the national committeeman repudiated the "wet" candidate for Governor and urged the State committee to take similar action.

Thus it will be seen that the one who was so judiciously shielded in the statements of Mr. Palmer is no other than the liquor champion of the south land and a Democrat. Since the meeting between the Democratic leader, Mr. Palmer, and the representative of the liquor dealers, Mr. Sinnott, was arranged by one of the most prominent Democratic statesmen of the nation we fail to see the point of Mr. Penrose in the transaction. It is significant that Underwood and Palmer are close friends.

That A. Mitchell Palmer was "willing" to go further into details with Judge Bonniwell on representations made by Sinnott is evidenced by Sinnott's report of the meeting made to Judge Bonniwell but here as in other cases the Judge would not go as far as to meet with Palmer on any other of the accredited state organizations as long as they withheld from him the privilege of naming his campaign chairman. The remark of the judge as to his trust in Palmer as written in the following paragraph is not inconsistent with his actions.

"The whole knowledge that I possess of the Sinnott-Palmer meeting," said Judge Bonniwell, "consists of a statement by John Sinnott to me, following this meeting which he declared was arranged for by Senator Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, Palmer's personal friend—a man unknown to me except by reputation. Mr. Sinnott came to me and stated that he had had this meeting, and that Palmer desired to meet me in New York the following week to discuss the 'question' of the State committee and the management of the campaign, and had requested him (Sinnott) to arrange for such a meeting. This request I flatly refused; for I have never trusted A. Mitchell Palmer in any matter."

Judge Bonniwell's reply to Palmer, covering twelve closely written pages, is prefaced with a statement as to his reasons for entering the fight against Joseph F. Guffey, of Pittsburgh, who was selected by the Palmer-McCormick leadership to make the gubernatorial fight against Senator Sprout, the Republican candidate. He declares in his statement that,

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN NARROWS DOWN TO PARTY CONTROL

Above all things, there is a domestic issue involving the fundamentals of Democratic doctrine—the rights of the State and the personal liberty of the individual, and that he espoused that issue, and that it is the issue the voters of Pennsylvania must consider this fall.

"I shall continue," he asserted, "in the confidence that the overwhelming majority of the voters of Pennsylvania approve of a victory honestly won, and with their support and aid I will go forward to a triumphant victory on November 3."

Judge Bonniwell will not go to Harrisburg Saturday next to answer the charges preferred by Palmer. It is not known whether or not he will send a statement to the meeting of the State committee, which will meet to consider the matter of repudiating him as the Democratic gubernatorial candidate. The fact that he will ignore the committee entirely is intimated in his statement. It says:

Committee Tamed "Packed"
"A servile committee seeks to in dress his (Palmer's) action and has the effrontery to summon me to appear before a packed and prejudiced body to answer charges which, when read, fall of their own weight."

"I am informed that this conversation between Sinnott and Palmer took place more than five weeks ago, at some time prior to August 1; but it was not disclosed by this pharisaical committee until September 4. No query during that period of five weeks was addressed to me as to the truth or falsity of this conversation, if anything of the kind in substance took place; and the statements therein contained are not only absurd, but do not even remotely approach the truth."

"His prepared statements makes it appear that Sinnott had called upon him at my request to obtain a suitable State chairman and the removal of the nominee for Lieutenant Governor from the ticket. Neither Sinnott nor any other man has ever been authorized to deal or parley with A. Mitchell Palmer on my behalf. He declared that Sinnott promised the control of the Administration to Palmer in the event of my election, because Sinnott 'owned me.' Not even Palmer himself believes that statement. He declares that Sinnott told him that I became a candidate at Sinnott's request, Sinnott promising to furnish all necessary financial support, and that Sinnott did so do. That statement is absolutely false in all its details."

Palmer Called Conspirator
"Near the conclusion of his statement Palmer says: 'It is 1910 over again, only more boldly conceived and more cleverly executed.' Truly it is 1910 over again; and on that memorable occasion when he declares that the Republican boss, with the help of his tools who masquerade as Democrats, nullified the will of the voters, he speaks of his own personal and intimate knowledge. A. Mitchell Palmer was one of the tools and conspirators. He met with Senator J. K. P. Hall in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia, ten days before the Allentown convention, at which time the slaughter of Munson was determined upon and the degradation of the party brought about. For his servility is received from J. K. P. Hall a check to the order of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel Company in the sum of $500—a check which he subsequently, under late of June 17, 1910, requested Senator Hall's permission to use in the fall campaign to aid in his election. The money so paid to him was never accounted for. The account which he filed contained no statement of this sum of money.

"Not only did he falsify his expense account in 1910, but he falsified it again in 1912. The account of Samuel Kunle, treasurer of the Democratic State committee, shows a payment to Harry D. Kutz of $450 on November 27, 1912, as chairman of the Twenty-sixth Congressional District of Pennsylvania. Kutz did not account for this money. Upon challenge, he asserted he had paid the money to A. Mitchell Palmer. The declaration of Palmer, when cornered, was: 'It was not accounted for by me in my account for the simple reason that it was received after my account was filed, although I filed my account at Washington on the last day allowed by law.' Kutz received the money on November 27, 1912, and paid it over to Palmer two days thereafter. His account was filed December 4, 1912, and does not contain any account of this money; so that his statement is false. Yet this double falsifier accuses me of a violation of the corrupt practices act."

McCormick a "Tyrant"
"McCormick," the statement continues, "has never supported any Democrat in all his life unless he selected him, and his paper has been the scurrilous critic of all men who incur the displeasure of this petty tyrant."

"He was publicly pilloried in the Senate of Pennsylvania on Wednesday, May 21, 1913, by Edward E. Beidleman, State Senator from his own district, and I quote his language: 'I have in my possession copies of the affidavits which were made to support every contention that I am now asserting on the floor of this Senate. He (Vance McCormick) went to that man's office for the purpose of ascertaining how many purchasable votes there were in this city, in order that the financial arrangements might be made to buy up the voters of this district; and later on he attended a meeting in his own office in Market street of this city, which meeting was called for the purpose of raising a corruption fund to buy up the election of Vance C. McCormick as Mayor of the city of Harrisburg.'"

RAIN DID NOT KEEP THE LOCAL PATRIOTS FROM PARADING

A little bit of rain or a whole lot of rain has no terror for the majority of the red-blooded Clearfield county citizen between the ages of 18 and 45 inclusive, judging entirely by the turnout in last night's parade.

The boys from 18 to 45 throughout the country decided some time ago to parade about their respective communities following their registering for possible service against the Kaiser and his laby killers.

When 9 o'clock arrived last night it was "raining cats and dogs," so to speak, but that never even felled the majority of our red-blooded old and young fellows and some five or six hundred of them were gathered about the public square ready and willing to line up and go the route in testimony of their willingness to do their bit under any and all circumstances.

The old reliable, ever faithful Liberty Chorus was there almost to a man ready to lend full measure of rhythm to the swing around the circle, while the newly organized Fire department band to the number of just nine "wet or dry" patriots, were also on deck to add their measure of vim and dash to the occasion.

The rain came down in torrents while the preliminaries were being arranged, but only a very few "swivel-chair" fellows left the line and sought cover. Two old band veterans Al Mitchell and Harry Bridge took their dash of aqua pura with the boys and their example stirred the boys to greater effort and more power in the rendering of that classic ballad "Hail! Hail! the Gang's all Here."

Mayor Chase and ex-Mayor Callahan, with R. W. Rea, in khaki, carrying the flag Captain Robert Reed, home on furlough from Y. M. C. A. headquarters in France and Rev. E. V. Brown, leading the band, headed the procession, which formed on Market street in front of the borough building. The band was followed by Prof. "Caruso" Nightingale and his Liberty Singers and they were followed by some five or six hundred of the kind of fellows who are carrying and will continue to carry fear, death and destruction to the Kaiser and his dastardly huns.

With the lightning flashing, the thunder rolling and reverberating down the valley and the rain coming down in torrents the line of march down Second street was taken up. It was the most enthusiastic parade we have ever witnessed in Clearfield. Every man in line knew why he was there and what his enrollment in liberty's army portended. He realized that he had lined up for service, if

"Further on in the same address Senator Beidleman declared: 'There was raised in that meeting that night a sum which netted $32,000, which was carried to the Mayor's office a few days before the election, and at the Mayor's office they had so much money there to buy up the election of Vance C. McCormick that they couldn't use it all, and the day following the election two men carried it back in a waste paper basket to the Dauphin Deposit Trust Company, of which he was one of the trustees, and which bank kept its doors open the whole day long on that election day so that if the $32,000 were not sufficient a clerk was there to hand out more money to corrupt the people of the city of Harrisburg.'"

Refuses to "Bend Knee"

Judge Bonniwell asserts that the attack upon him was launched because he has refused to "bend his knee before this arrogant, selfish boss, and also because he interferred with Palmer's patronage distribution." He cited the case of Joseph Howley, United States marshal for the Western District of Pennsylvania, who was not reappointed, although Judge of the courts endorsed him. Howley is a Bonniwell man, and because of this Judge Bonniwell intimates, Howley was displaced.

As a third reason for the attack upon him, Judge Bonniwell points out that Palmer and Vance McCormick have an interest in common. Palmer, he says, is a subservient tool of the corporations, while McCormick is a capitalist. He declares that Palmer was denounced on the floor of Congress by Representative Farr, of Lackawanna County, as a tool of the corporations, and that McCormick when Mayor of Harrisburg voted a bill granting laborers an increase of one and a half cent an hour. He adds:

"I welcome Palmer's repudiation. I have no desire for the support of such men. I shall not again answer or refer to the shiny attacks of the men who wish to destroy this chance for the redemption of Pennsylvania."

CHAPTER VII.

The Japanese.

According to the talk of the German diplomats before the war the expectation was that Japan's power would be used against America at the first opportunity. Whether the object of this campaign was to stir up trouble between Japan and America or only to awaken this country to a sense of the danger which the Germans professed to believe threatened her I don't know. I do know, however, that prospect of a Japanese-American war seemed to worry the Germans considerably more than it worries us.

The day England declared war against Germany, August 5, 1914, the Prince von Pless called to see me professionally.

"There will be two wars fought," he said, oracularly. "The present one, by which we shall gain control of the continent of Europe forever, and then a war with the yellow races, in which we shall probably have your country to assist us."

That this opinion was more or less general in Germany may account for the fact that from the time war was declared until August 23, 1914, when Japan declared war against Germany, the Japanese residents in Berlin were made the subject of the most sickening attentions. It was reported that Japan was going to attack Russia, and the Germans could not do enough to show their newly born admiration for the yellow race which they had hitherto so deeply despised. The Japs were carried through the streets on the shoulders of the populace and kissed and cheered wherever they appeared in public.

And then Japan declared war against Germany! Instantly there was wild demonstration in the streets of Berlin, which would have resulted most disastrously for the Japs who had so recently been hailed as friends but for the astonishing fact that every single Jap had succeeded in getting away from Berlin before the news of Japan's entry into the war became generally known.

In the absence of Japanese upon which to vent their spleen, the Germans did everything they could to make life miserable for those who resembled Japs. The few Chinese who were there were tormented either because they were taken for Japs or because they were of the same race. The Siamese minister, Prince Traidos, who was one of my patients, told me that when his wife and children went out on the streets the crowds followed them and jeered, referring to the Japanese as monkeys, and using other opprobrious epithets. They even went so far as to spit in Princess Traidos' face, and the minister finally decided to send her and the children to Switzerland, although he himself remained at his post.

I saw the Kaiser shortly after the Japanese declaration of war, and he was very bitter against the United States because of that development. "What is your president thinking of to allow a yellow race to attack a white race! Now the Japanese are attacking Kiao-Chau, and America could have prevented it. All that America had to do was to raise a finger and Japan would have known enough to keep her place!"

He spoke in this strain on several subsequent occasions.

When Kiao-Chau fell he again criticized the United States for not having stopped Japan.

"How can your president allow Japan to increase in power at the expense of a white race?" he asked, indignantly. "Now China is lost to the world forever. America is the one power that could have prevented it, but now Japan has got her fingers on China and she is lost to us forever."

After we were in the war, the Kaiser expressed to me his opinion that our object in taking this step was fourfold:

"First," he said, "Wilson wants to save the money you have loaned to the allies. Second, he wants to have a seat at the peace table. Third, he wants to give your army and navy a little practical experience—unfortunately, at our expense. And fourth, and principally, he wants to prepare for the war with Japan which he knows is inevitable. The Japanese are the ones which your country must look upon as its real enemies."

A German officer of high standing told me just before I left Berlin that America had made the great mistake of sending ammunition, guns and supplies to Russia, via Japan, because Japan had just returned the finally made American strokes and had dumped on Russia a lot of good-for-nothing material of her own in their place. "My advice to America," he declared, "is to cut the throat of every Japanese in America and get rid of the infernal danger." He did not suggest cutting the throats of all the undesirable Germans who were in Amer-

Washington, Sept. 13.—The government will brook no interference with war industry, President Wilson announced today in a notice served on labor and industry. He called upon the striking munition workers at Bridgeport to return to work immediately under threat of a boycott against further government employment of any kind, and loss of appeal from draft on industrial grounds. He threatened Smith & Wesson Company of Springfield, Mass., with government seizure because of their refusal to accept federal mediation.

205,000 OFFICERS AND 3,500,000 MEN IN ARMY AND NAVY

Washington, Sept. 10.—There are 205,000 officers in the United States Army and Navy today, 185,000 being army men and 20,000 navy men.

Before the Mexican trouble the traditional army of the United States was about 25,000 men on paper, with about 5,000 officers.

The 205,000 officers command about 500,000 sailors and marines and about 3,000,000 men of the army. There will be more than 185,000 officers in the army when there shall have been added the 2,000,000 men that General Crowder is now counting on sending to Europe.

The total number of men in the army by July will be nearly 4,000,000 and in the navy 750,000. Officers say there is no absolute ratio on which to calculate how many officers will be in the service of the army and navy by July 1, 1919.

THE RETURNS ARE ALWAYS THREE FOLD

It pays to advertise in The Progress. The other day a West Side lady broke her glasses and lost one eye glass and part of the frame. She wanted to recover it of course and having had previous satisfactory experience, at once took advantage of the want ad section of The Progress. A little three line ad did the business and on the evening of the first day's publication brought to this office no less than three different "one eyed" glasses. The one advertised for was among the number.

Of the men who registered yesterday the first to be called should be in the service before Nov. 1. They will come from those who are nineteen and twenty and between thirty-two and thirty-six, inclusive. The boys of eighteen are to be held until last, as announced by Provost Marshal General Crowder at the time the Man-Power Bill was pending in Congress.
Ahead of them the class between thirty-six and forty-five will be drawn upon.

Of the new registrants first subject to call for military service it is estimated that over 1,400,000, for the most part under twenty-one years of age, will be available for general service. If the same rate of mobilization is maintained as during the last four months they will practically all
be in training before the winter is over. As fast as troops are moved overseas, drafted men will be sent to the camps to fill their places.

The War Department's programme calls for 3,000,000 Americans in France next June and 1,000,000 more in training in this country. It has been officially stated that 1,000,000
have been transported abroad. By
Nov. 1 the 2,000,000 mark will be reached. By that time today's registrants will be in process of classification by the local boards and will be going forward. By next spring the class of men over thirty-two will probably be exhausted and the eighteen-year-old class will then be mobilized. In the mean time, if need be, the President may order the registration of all persons attaining the age of eighteen, among which should be every year fully 600,000 qualified for service.

The size of the army to be raised under the Selective Service Act for foreign service will depend primarily upon the number of transports at the disposal of the Government. If there are ships enough the men transferring

SHAPIRO'S CLOSED MONDAY
Closed all day Monday on account of holiday.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

Registration day took the time of a good many men yesterday. Some of the industries had scarcely enough men left to man the machinery.

Mrs. Geo. Gray, of Clearfield, was a Curwensville caller yesterday, visiting her sister, Mrs. Martha Broome.

Despite the inclemency of the weather the apron sale held in the M. E. church last evening was a financial success and the Ladies Aid received a nice sum from their venture.

With two well equipped printing offices in town it would hardly seem necessary for merchants to send out for their printing, yet some of them do it. "Feed me and I'll feed you," is an old adage that both printer and merchant should follow.

Several parties who want to come to Curwensville and locate, having secured good situations, were in town the fore part of the week looking over a number of houses with the idea of making purchase. Most of the places seemed hardly pretentious enough for them, hence no sales were made.

Mrs. Isaac Black received a card from her son Clyde Black, who is at Camp Lee, informing her that he sails for France the first of next week. He has been instructed and will run a large motor army truck after he lands in France.

The curfew law idea has taken root, and the subject will come up before council for discussion at no distant day. It is the only way that children of tender years can be kept off the street at night.

O. J. Baker is arranging for the sale of his properties and other possessions here prior to his removing to a town near Philadelphia.

The many friends of Editor Short of the Republican are pleased at the appointment as a Deputy U. S. Marshall for this district. Short deserves some recognition at the hands of his party. Here's that he will make a successful and prudent officer.

Painter Harry Robinson says it is not safe at this time for a contractor to bid on painting buildings as the paint prices jump around so irregularly that a bid today would not do for tomorrow. He says that day work now is the only safe way to play the game.

The over the sea casualty list is read with much interest by Curwensville people as published in the Progress each day. As yet no Curwensville boys has been so unfortunate as to meet death in a foreign land.

The Crescent band was out last evening and furnished music for the apron sale in the M. E. church.

To Our Friends and Patrons:

Last you be lead into a misunderstanding, please note the following: We announced in these columns last week, that the CURTIS PUBLICATIONS would advance their rates, effective OCT. FIRST. (Which advice we have direct from Publishers—HENCE THE AD.) At same time soliciting Subscriptions and RE-NEWALS AT OLD PRICES, adding DO IT NOW AND SAVE MONEY. Suffice to say, we have been among you here too long for any reader to misconstrue our NOTICE. We could not expect to win or merit your business tomorrow by unfair methods today. We would again remind you of this AD. COME IN or TELEPHONE. At your service always,
Respectfully,
T. & R. K. WAY.

OSCEOLA MILLS

Miss Meecham, of Wilkinsburg is a visitor at the home of Rev. S. T. Lewis this week.

Miss Clare Good left for New York City on Wednesday where she will visit her friend Miss Helen Walters who has been ill at a hospital in that city for several weeks. We are glad to learn that her condition has materially improved.

All of the men employed at Mosshannon No. 10 mine have renewed their membership in the Red Cross organization and have paid into the treasury $157.00 for the membership fee. The miners at this mine are 100 per cent.

Mrs. Fred Henry and little daughter, of Lewistown is visiting former friends in town this week.

There was 325 registrations at this place yesterday and the work passed off very smoothly under the efficient management of Dr. Robert Jackson and his well qualified board. On account of the destruction of the Fire Co. building by fire last month the registration was to have been held in the new auto garage but as this building is not yet completed the Social club very graciously gave the board the use of their nicely furnished rooms in the McCann building. There was no provision made for the registrants who live adjacent to the borough in Rush township and the men were obliged to travel either to Sandy Ridge or Philipsburg a distance of four miles that they might register. An Austrian presented himself to the local board who learned that although he worked at the Brick Works here lives in Center county just across the line and he was informed he would have to go to one of the above named places to register. He left but returned again and informed the board that he wanted to register and that he wanted to do it here, adding that this was the last chance he would give them to register him and that he would not go anywhere else to do it. An Italian came straggling into the room about 10 p. m. and informed the board "Some one tell him he could come at 11 o'clock". He was advised to report at Houtdale on Friday.

This is a win the war Store, each month brings a deeper meaning of this phrase to each of us, and knowing this we have bought our stocks accordingly, we have taken into our stock only such items as we feel are of known quality, even tho the prices are a trifle higher, than goods of lower quality. Some one has said:

"Mere Cheapness is waste,
Cheapness with Quality is saving."

As you walk through our store we want you to keep this one thought in your mind—Here you can buy merchandise at the lowest possible prices at which it is possible to produce and market good Merchandise.

You may buy a dress for $5.00 or you may buy one for $25.00 in either case you have received the best possible value at the price. One thing in particular which we desire to call your attention to at this time is SWEATERS.

We handle the celebrated Bradley line, both for men and for women the colorings, and designs are exceptionally fine, and the prices range from Five Dollars to Sixteen fifty.

Another is the celebrated glove line made by P. Sente Marie in Grenoble, France. This has been one of the leading gloves for the past forty years. It might be of interest to our customers to know that the Sente Marie works are now doing government work.

We have a lot of Fashionable Wool Velour Coats, good quality cloth Bafin Seal cross over collar, lined throughout with a good quality sateen. We have these in Brown, Navy, Plum and Taupe at Twenty Five Dollars.

Here we have a coat of all wool silvertone velour with a large circular collar, tailored style, finished cuffs are button ornamented. Fancy belt button trimmed. Two large pockets trimmed with buttons, plaited back, half lined with mercerized sateen, an exceptional value at Forty Five Dollars.

An all wool Burella Cloth coat is here, this coat has a value far beyond most coats so reasonably priced, large shawl collar which can be buttoned up around the neck, novelty cuffs and pockets, original belt, half lined with a good grade Venetian Cloth, all seams bound, you may take them at Twenty Two-Fifty and Twenty Five Dollars.

We have a coat for Misses designed with a large Military Collar, fashionably shaped shoulders, button trimmed cuff, inverted plaited back, the around belt is trimmed with buttons and fastens at the front with a buckle. This coat has Military buttons, and is lined throughout. Khaki Color, or, and the price; Nineteen Fifty.

New millinery now on display. More "spirit" to the lines—more study of the contour valuation in size and brim treatment and crown heights—and the most flattering "little touches".

Attractive prices.
Milady's new shoes for fall and winter have arrived and are now on display. These shoes are all in accordance with the war board's ruling, and are very attractive. Note the cloth top, leather vamp shoe especially. Spats will be worn extensively.

POWERFUL PILE REMEDY DISCOVERED

Has Never Failed to End Most Obstinate Case of Piles in a Few Days

For years it has been proved that so-called external remedies applied to or inserted in the rectum cannot cure piles and at the best can only give temporary relief. Surgical operations also do not remove this cause, but simply the formation.
This wonderful prescription, known as Miro Pile Remedy, is so efficient in the treatment of piles, that even chronic cases of from 20 to 30 years standing with profuse bleeding have been completely cured in from three to ten days. Think of it! Just a few doses of a carefully balanced prescription and the most persistent case of piles is absorbed, never to return.
Just read what Henry J. Stone of the Lorain, Ohio, Fire department says:
"I had bleeding and protruding piles for three years and tried all kinds of remedies without result but was thoroughly cured after taking one bottle of Miro."
Frank J. Phillips of Bird Island, Minnesota, says:
"I used half a bottle of Miro. It worked like a charm. I no longer suffer with bleeding and protruding piles. I never regreted the money for such blessing as I am now enjoying. I would have used the whole bottle, but it was not necessary."
All physicians dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it is worth the little trouble to obtain it to be rid of piles forever.
IMPORTANT: What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.

"A PAIR OF SILK STOCKINGS"
DRIGGS THEATRE TONIGHT

The title "A Pair of Silk Stockings" has been applied to the play being presented at the Driggs theatre this evening, because in the story this important part of a woman's outfit had much to do with the reuniting and bringing happiness to a pair of married lovers who had gone through the divorce court.

Sam and Molly Thornhill had been as happy as it is possible for a newly married couple could be until the green-eyed monster jealousy invades their home. Little things soon become big and to make a long story short the once happy pair are divorced.

Sam goes to the country to try to forget his unhappiness in solitude. Molly tries to forget her unhappiness by having a good time. She is on a motor trip when near the country place where Sam is staying the automobile breaks down. How the couple are reunited and the pair of silk stockings play in the reconciliation would make as long a story as it is interesting and the comedy must be seen to be appreciated. The play is full of wholesome mirth and is one of the best of the recent New York successes.

Tomorrow afternoon the players will present the musical comedy success "Very Good Eddie" this delightful offering delighted a packed house Wednesday evening and is repeated by request of many who were unable to secure seats at the first performance. The school children bring filled with laughs and song hits. Children are admitted for fifteen cents, adults twenty-five cents.

Saturday Night "Birds of Prey" Saturday night Joseph Noel's stirring drama "Birds of Prey" will be offered. It is a play that has divorced for its theme. It shows that men get the laughter, the song and the wine and pay with a little love—then go on their way and laugh and live again. But what happens to the poor girl with but one standard of right and wrong is the big subject that is exhibited. It will be staged with a full cast of characters and all the scenic settings to make it pleasing and entertaining.

WATCH YOUR STEP TODAY

For the first time in 1918 good old St. Jinx will hold high carnival today. The pretty custom of celebrating the day has not yet become universal, but it is believed likely that the Germans on the western front will be initiated into the practice today by the soldiers of the Allies.

The popularity of St. Jinx's carnival is making distinct progress, for it is noticed now that many more people are unlucky are unlucky on Friday, other year or two most of all of us will be willing to accept a two-dollar bill or walk under a ladder in honor of the saint.

If you are lucky enough to be unlucky today, you will be proud to know that you are doing your part. Do not be ashamed to admit your little help in this, whatever it may have been. Perhaps you have only managed to break your favorite golf stick or been obliged to pay the penalty for your poor judgment in picking the winner of the world's series. But have heart, next time you may have to go without sugar in your coffee or buy a new suit of clothes at wartime prices.

SAVE YOUR AWNINGS

Awning material is out of sight in price and will be farther away next spring. Your awning has served its purpose this summer and there is no need for it hanging out in the elements, now, being destroyed. You can save money and obey your government's conservation orders by having your awnings taken down now and stored until needed next spring.

We will take them down at little cost (store them for you without charge) and put them up again in the spring for you. Act now, every day you delay is costing you money.

Gossip for Tonight's Tea Table

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ball of Hillsdale, received word that their son, James, has been made corporal of his machine gun squad. Corporal Ball is only 16 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Hull, of Woodland, have received a card that their son Ray has arrived safely over seas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Easton Ross who have been living at Claysburg Pa. for some time have returned again to Clearfield. Mr. Ross has accepted a position with the Clearfield Electric Supply Co.

Mrs. Harry Hughes, of Middletown, Pa., will arrive in Clearfield this evening and will visit with Mrs. D. W. Speck on West Market street.

FORMER STATE HIGHWAY
EXPERT HERE

Captain F. E. Winter, formerly in charge of State Highway headquarters for this district, was in Clearfield today enroute back to duty at Washington following a brief furlough spent with his family at DuBois.

Capt. Winter has been connected with the camp and road construction forces of the army and helped locate and prepare the ground for Camp Colt, the tank instruction camp at Gettysburg.

He expected to go to France with Lt. Col. Kerr's 23d Engineers, but was detailed for duty in the purchasing department of the construction corps.

He hopes to be assigned to overseas duty in the near future and is anxious to get into the big mixup "over there."

BOWLERS ATTENTION

There will be a meeting of the Bowling league next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The purpose of this meeting is to elect a new president in place of Mr. McWhinney, who had to resign on account of being called into army service.

There will also be committees appointed for the making of the schedule etc.

HUNTERS SHOULD BE POSTED

The State Game Commission have already issued their usual notice to sportsmen regarding the provisions of the game laws as they affect the different counties of the state.

We will note that it is illegal to kill any wild turkeys, quail, grouse, ring neck pheasants, Virginia and Hungarian quail in Clearfield county this year.

Deer, bear squirrels and rabbits may be legally killed by Clearfield county sportsmen.

TWO BOYS IN SERVICE

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hess received a card from their son, Private Ames Hess announcing that he had arrived safely overseas.

Their other son, Private Fred Hess, has been in France with the 23 U. S. Infantry for more than a year and in a recent letter says he is getting along fine.

TWO IN ONE FAMILY

Frank Kittelberger and his son and H. L. Connolly and son William were among the local double barreled registrants yesterday.

The "old man" and the young man in each family walked into the registration booth together on thus 18 and 45 enlisted as Kaiser hunters, if the Fates so will it.

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART; IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. It attacks all classes, regardless of age, sex or conditions. A majority of the ills affecting people today can be traced back to the kidneys.

The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filters, the purifiers, of your blood. If the poisons which are swept from the tissues by the kidneys, disease of one form or another will claim you as a victim.

Kidney disease is usually indicated by weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, difficulty when urinating, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, rheumatism, scalds and lumbago.

After you feel that you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two capsules each day, so as to keep in first-class condition and ward off the danger of other attacks.

STOCK JUDGING CONTEST
AT THE COUNTY FAIR

The Annual Stock Judging contest will be held at the Clearfield County fair on Wednesday, September 19th, beginning promptly at 10 o'clock. This contest is educational in its nature and is held at the fair with the idea of stimulating greater interest among the boys and girls in the county for better livestock.

The fair association is offering liberal prizes. The contest is open to any boy or girl from 10 to 20 years of age.

Application for entry should be sent to A. T. Kearney, Clearfield, Pa. Contestants should send in their applications immediately, so that we can send them literature that will be useful in preparing for the contest.

Those taking part in the contest will be given free admission to the fair on Wednesday. The classes of livestock to be judged will consist of horses, dairy cattle, sheep and hogs.

The contest will last from 10 o'clock until noon, after which a free lunch provided by the fair committee will be served and the contestants will have the rest of the day to see the fair.

One hundred thirty-five boys and girls participated in the two Clearfield county contests last year.

STILL OPEN FOR VOLUNTEERS

There is one branch of the national service in which young men may voluntarily enroll and that is in the merchant marine. A recent Government ruling provided that recruiting for this service be kept open, as it is imperative that men be found to offset and man the new merchant ships. As a result of this ruling many men who come under the provisions of the new draft may take up the sea career if they prefer it. That many of these prospective draftees do prefer it is shown by the decided increase in the number of applications for enrollment at the local headquarters in the basement of the House.

Age limits for enrollment for the training ships of the merchant marine are from 18 to 35 inclusive. This applies only to raw recruits who have no training nor seafaring experience.

For experienced men, however, the bars have been let down, and, in cases where a certain type of officer or man is needed and has the experience, there is practically no age limitation. This is especially so in the case of engineers, firemen and coal-passers, which are now in great demand. More than 600 applicants besieged recruiting headquarters yesterday and there is already a long waiting list.

AMERICANS TAKE 9500 PRISONERS

By United Press

London, Sept. 13.—In their offensive against St. Mihiel the Americans have captured 60 guns, according to information from the front this afternoon. The advance of the Americans into the St. Mihiel salient from the south has now reached a depth of 8 miles according to information from the front this afternoon. The enemy is blowing up ammunition dumps at Happonville.

Latest reports of the territory taken by the Americans indicate that the neck of the salient has been narrowed to less than 6 miles. If two German divisions were still remaining in the pocket their escape is decidedly improbable. Dispatches from the front report that prisoners taken by the Americans now total 9,500.

The Americans are making progress so rapidly that the situation is increasingly dangerous to the enemy. The town of Zentcourt is reported to have fallen. The attack on the western side of the pocket has run into more difficult country but the Germans have advanced to a depth of 3 miles. German ammunition dumps are also being blown up at Donboux. (This town is not shown on the map but there is a town of Dampvilloux north of Zentcourt.)

London, Sept. 13.—St. Mihiel at the apex of the salient before Metz has fallen to the French, unofficial reports here today say. (The report of the capture of St. Mihiel was also cabled to the United Press by Frank J. Taylor now on the front.) There is no official confirmation. "West of St. Quentin Savy was occupied," the statement said.

With The Americans On The Metz Front, Sept. 13.—The American advance is continuing today on both sides of the St. Mihiel salient between the Meuse and the Moselle. Additional prisoners are constantly being reported. Rain is falling at intervals. The Germans are having great difficulty in removing their artillery from the salient because of the bad roads. Among the prisoners captured by the Americans was German Count Scheszyng. The Americans found him with his ordrelies with his baggage unpacked waiting to be captured. Among the prisoners taken by the French were 350 Austrians.

Washington, Sept. 13.—The American attack on St. Mihiel was a complete surprise to the Germans, according to reliable information at the War Department today. The Germans were completely "fooled" by the apparent inactivity of the Americans which resulted from direct orders not to fire artillery and not to show any signs of unusual activity up to the appointed hour.

SWANTON GUILTY
OF MANSLAUGHTER

3 P. M. The jury in the case returned a verdict of voluntary manslaughter.

The hearing of testimony in the Swanton murder trial ended yesterday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock and Attorney Liveright immediately began his address to the jury. He made a strong plea for "another chance for the young man" and searchingly dissected the evidence presented which accentuated the prisoner's self-defense plea.

District Attorney Arnold followed in a masterful summing up for the Commonwealth.

At the conclusion of the District Attorney's plea court adjourned. Judge Baldrige announcing that he would deliver his charge to the jury at the convening of court this morning.

Russell Peoples, of Clearfield, one of the jurors, was taken sick at the breakfast table at the Wither Inn this morning and when court called at 9 o'clock was so ill that he was unable to take his place in the jury box and as a result the trial was halted for the time being.

fast this morning was taken violently ill. His left arm and left side of the face was affected and it was feared he had suffered a slight stroke of paralysis. He was able to return to the court house but became worse and Doctor Wilson was summoned.

The doctor diagnosed his trouble as possible ptomaine poisoning and worked with him for some time. Peoples felt able to resume his duties about 11 o'clock and the jury filed into the box and Judge Baldrige began his charge. The jury were given the case and returned to take up their deliberations shortly before the noon recess.

Swanton's father, mother, brother and the wife whom he married while in jail and shortly following the shooting were present in the court room throughout the trial.

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN NARROWS
DOWN TO PARTY CONTROL FIGHT

The fight between Pershing and the Hun has very little on the Bonniwell-Sinnott-Palmer-McCormick controversy within the Democratic party of Pennsylvania when we array the red hot denunciation of Bonniwell by the leaders of the party and the vitriolic comeback of the Horatious of the liquor traffic in this state as published in the city papers of yesterday. The fight between Bonniwell and Vance McCormick probably deserves and requires no place in the columns of this newspaper but since the underlying cause of their trouble is the future control of the government of the state and of the coming presidential campaign it is only right that the true purpose or bone of contention be exposed to the general public.

In these days when the Democratic party is in absolute control of every thing we own or expect to own it is only natural that the influential members of that party engage in a wild scramble to gather up the plums, and while Judge Bonniwell is the champion of the liquor interests in Pennsylvania and therefore must not be allowed to sit in the governor's chair, it must be said of him, to his credit, that he has not been willing to be the tool and plaything of McCormick and Palmer. It is possible and probable that had McCormick and Palmer treated Bonniwell with the courtesy that was due him as the candidate of the party the Judge would not have been such a rabid defender of King Alcohol. Palmer as Alien Property Custodian and McCormick as National Committeeman of the great Democratic Party, insisted that the gubernatorial candidate should be of their choosing and, if not of their choosing, of their absolute control. Apparently Judge Bonniwell sensed this and being a man of determined nature and a fighter for his principles he made a bid for the support of the liquor traffic and with that support is giving the administration forces the fight of their lives.

Clearfield county voters will do well to remember these few points: The activity of Palmer, McCormick and their cohorts in this county are purely and solely for the purpose of maintaining control of the state organization for the coming presidential election. Their political acts have been such as to disrupt their party and they now seek to throw out the Democratic candidate for governor, who was selected at the primary by the voters, simply because he refuses to do as they want him to do. Their pernicious activity is seen in the many appointments that have been made from this community most of which have been in return for services rendered and flip-flops to their ranks.

There is every likelihood that the state organization will dump Bonniwell and put someone on the ticket for the administration office holders to vote for. While we cannot commend Judge Bonniwell because of his platform founded on beer legs it does appear that from a political standpoint there is no course open for respecting duty in the wool Democrats but to cast their vote for Bonniwell as the lesser of the two evils. For those who voted the last time as Democrats because "he kept us out of war" there is a haven in the Republican party where they can vote for Wm. C. Sprout, a business man who is able and capable of being governor of this great commonwealth and who comes to the voters with a clean record. Besides, they get in line for the coming election of a president when the Republican party will put forth a "win the war" ticket that will stand for two fisted fighting of the Hun, giving our boys airplanes, rifles and ammunition without reserve and will depend more on shot and shell than on propaganda and notes.

"Fixer" Also a Democrat
Senator Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, yesterday was disclosed by Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell as the man who arranged the famous conference between A. Mitchell Palmer and John Sinnott which gave to Mr. Palmer the basis of his charges that Judge Bonniwell is the paid agent and tool of Senator Penrose and the liquor interests and a candidate whose purpose it is to deceive the people of Pennsylvania. John Sinnott is president of the Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association of Pennsylvania.

The assertion that Senator Underwood was the "go-between" in bringing about the meeting between Palmer and Sinnott was made in a formal reply to the charges made by Mr. Palmer before the Democratic State Committee at Harrisburg last week when the national committeeman repudiated the "wet" candidate for Governor and urged the State committee to take similar action.

Thus it will be seen that the one who was so judiciously shielded in the statements of Mr. Palmer is no other than the liquor champion of the south land and a Democrat. Since the meeting between the Democratic leader, Mr. Palmer, and the representative of the liquor dealers, Mr. Sinnott, was arranged by one of the most prominent Democratic statesmen of the nation we fail to see the point of Mr. Penrose in the transaction. It is significant that Underwood and Palmer are close friends.

That A. Mitchell Palmer was "willing" to go further into details with Judge Bonniwell on representations made by Sinnott is evidenced by Sinnott's report of the meeting made to Judge Bonniwell but here as in other cases the Judge would not go as far as to meet with Palmer on any other of the accredited state organizations as long as they withheld from him the privilege of naming his campaign chairman. The remark of the judge as to his trust in Palmer as written in the following paragraph is not inconsistent with his actions.

"The whole knowledge that I possess of the Sinnott-Palmer meeting," said Judge Bonniwell, "consists of a statement by John Sinnott to me, following this meeting which he declared was arranged for by Senator Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, Palmer's personal friend—a man unknown to me except by reputation. Mr. Sinnott came to me and stated that he had had this meeting, and that Palmer desired to meet me in New York the following week to discuss the 'question' of the State committee and the management of the campaign, and had requested him (Sinnott) to arrange for such a meeting. This request I flatly refused; for I have never trusted A. Mitchell Palmer in any matter."

Judge Bonniwell's reply to Palmer, covering twelve closely written pages, is prefaced with a statement as to his reasons for entering the fight against Joseph F. Guffey, of Pittsburgh, who was selected by the Palmer-McCormick leadership to make the gubernatorial fight against Senator Sprout, the Republican candidate. He declares in his statement that,

Above all things, there is a domestic issue involving the fundamentals of Democratic doctrine—the rights of the State and the personal liberty of the individual, and that he espoused that issue, and that it is the issue the voters of Pennsylvania must consider this fall.

"I shall continue," he asserted, "in the confidence that the overwhelming majority of the voters of Pennsylvania approve of a victory honestly won, and with their support and aid I will go forward to a triumphant victory on November 3."

Judge Bonniwell will not go to Harrisburg Saturday next to answer the charges preferred by Palmer. It is not known whether or not he will send a statement to the meeting of the State committee, which will meet to consider the matter of repudiating him as the Democratic gubernatorial candidate. The fact that he will ignore the committee entirely is intimated in his statement. It says:

Committee Tamed "Packed"
"A servile committee seeks to in-dorse his (Palmer's) action and has the effrontery to summon me to appear before a packed and prejudiced body to answer charges which, when read, fall of their own weight."

"I am informed that this conversation between Sinnott and Palmer took place more than five weeks ago, at some time prior to August 1; but it was not disclosed by this pharisaical committeeman until September 4. No query during that period of five weeks was addressed to me as to the truth or falsity of this conversation, if anything of the kind in substance took place; and the statements therein contained are not only absurd, but do not even remotely approach the truth."

"His prepared statements makes it appear that Sinnott had called upon him at my request to obtain a suitable State chairman and the removal of the nominees for Lieutenant Governor from the ticket. Neither Sinnott nor any other man has ever been authorized to deal or parley with A. Mitchell Palmer on my behalf. He declared that Sinnott promised the control of the Administration to Palmer in the event of my election, because Sinnott 'owned me.' Not even Palmer himself believes that statement. He declares that Sinnott told him that I became a candidate at Sinnott's request, Sinnott promising to furnish all necessary financial support, and that Sinnott did so do. That statement is absolutely false in all its details."

Palmer Called Conspirator
"Near the conclusion of his statement Palmer says: 'It is 1910 over again, only more boldly conceived and more cleverly executed.' Truly it is 1910 over again; and on that memorable occasion when he declares that the Republican boss, with the help of his tools who masquerade as Democrats, nullified the will of the voters, he speaks of his own personal and intimate knowledge. A. Mitchell Palmer was one of the tools and conspirators. He met with Senator J. K. P. Hall in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia, ten days before the Allenstown convention, at which time the slaughter of Munson was determined upon and the degradation of the party brought about. For his servility is received from J. K. P. Hall a check to the order of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel Company in the sum of $500—a check which he subsequently, under late of June 17, 1910, requested Senator Hall's permission to use in the fall campaign to aid in his election. The money so paid to him was never accounted for. The account which he filed contained no statement of this sum of money.

"Not only did he falsify his expense account in 1910, but he falsified it again in 1912. The account of Samuel Kunle, treasurer of the Democratic State committee, shows a payment to Harry D. Kutz of $450 on November 27, 1912, as chairman of the Twenty-sixth Congressional District of Pennsylvania. Kutz did not account for this money. Upon challenge, he asserted he had paid the money to A. Mitchell Palmer. The declaration of Palmer, when cornered, was: 'It was not accounted for by me in my account for the simple reason that it was received after my account was filed, although I filed my account at Washington on the last day allowed by law.' Kutz received the money on November 27, 1912, and paid it over to Palmer two days thereafter. His account was filed December 4, 1912, and does not contain any account of this money; so that his statement is false. Yet this double falsifier accuses me of a violation of the corrupt practices act."

McCormick a "Tyrant"
"McCormick," the statement continues, "has never supported any Democrat in all his life unless he selected him, and his paper has been the scurrilous critic of all men who incur the displeasure of this petty tyrant."

"He was publicly pilloried in the Senate of Pennsylvania on Wednesday, May 21, 1913, by Edward E. Beidleman, State Senator from his own district, and I quote his language: 'I have in my possession copies of the affidavits which were made to support every contention that I am now asserting on the floor of this Senate. He (Vance McCormick) went to that man's office for the purpose of ascertaining how many purchasable votes there were in this city, in order that the financial arrangements might be made to buy up the voters of this district; and later on he attended a meeting in his own office in Market street of this city, which meeting was called for the purpose of raising a corruption fund to buy up the election of Vance C. McCormick as Mayor of the city of Harrisburg.'"

RAIN DID NOT KEEP THE LOCAL PATRIOTS FROM PARADING

A little bit of rain or a whole lot of rain has no terror for the majority of the red-blooded Clearfield county citizen between the ages of 18 and 45 inclusive, judging entirely by the turnout in last night's parade.

The boys from 18 to 45 throughout the country decided some time ago to parade about their respective communities following their registering for possible service against the Kaiser and his laby killers.

When 9 o'clock arrived last night it was "raining cats and dogs," so to speak, but that never even felled the majority of our red-blooded old and young fellows and some five or six hundred of them were gathered about the public square ready and willing to line up and go the route in testimony of their willingness to do their bit under any and all circumstances.

The old reliable, ever faithful Liberty Chorus was there almost to a man ready to lend full measure of rhythm to the swing around the circle, while the newly organized Fire department band to the number of just nine "wet or dry" patriots, were also on deck to add their measure of vim and dash to the occasion.

The rain came down in torrents while the preliminaries were being arranged, but only a very few "swivel-chair" fellows left the line and sought cover. Two old band veterans Al Mitchell and Harry Bridge took their dash of aqua pura with the boys and their example stirred the boys to greater effort and more power in the rendering of that classic ballad "Hail! Hail! the Gang's all Here."

Mayor Chase and ex-Mayor Callahan, with R. W. Rea, in khaki, carrying the flag Captain Robert Reed, home on furlough from Y. M. C. A. headquarters in France and Rev. E. V. Brown, leading the band, headed the procession, which formed on Market street in front of the borough building. The band was followed by Prof. "Caruso" Nightingale and his Liberty Singers and they were followed by some five or six hundred of the kind of fellows who are carrying and will continue to carry fear, death and destruction to the Kaiser and his dastardly huns.

With the lightning flashing, the thunder rolling and reverberating down the valley and the rain coming down in torrents the line of march down Second street was taken up. It was the most enthusiastic parade we have ever witnessed in Clearfield. Every man in line knew why he was there and what his enrollment in liberty's army portended. He realized that he had lined up for service, if pose of raising a corruption fund to buy up the election of Vance C. McCormick as Mayor of the city of Harrisburg."

"Further on in the same address Senator Beidleman declared: 'There was raised in that meeting that night a sum which netted $32,000, which was carried to the Mayor's office a few days before the election, and at the Mayor's office they had so much money there to buy up the election of Vance C. McCormick that they couldn't use it all, and the day following the election two men carried it back in a waste paper basket to the Dauphin Deposit Trust Company, of which he was one of the trustees, and which bank kept its doors open the whole day long on that election day so that if the $32,000 were not sufficient a clerk was there to hand out more money to corrupt the people of the city of Harrisburg.'"

Refuses to "Bend Knee"

Judge Bonniwell asserts that the attack upon him was launched because he has refused to "bend his knee before this arrogant, selfish boss, and also because he interieared with Palmer's patronage distribution." He cited the case of Joseph Howley, United States marshal for the Western District of Pennsylvania, who was not reappointed, although Judge of the courts endorsed him. Howley is a Bonniwell man, and because of this Judge Bonniwell intimates, Howley was displaced.

As a third reason for the attack upon him, Judge Bonniwell points out that Palmer and Vance McCormick have an interest in common. Palmer, he says, is a subservient tool of the corporations, while McCormick is a capitalist. He declares that Palmer was denounced on the floor of Congress by Representative Farr, of Lackawanna County, as a tool of the corporations, and that McCormick when Mayor of Harrisburg voted a bill granting laborers an increase of one and a half cents an hour. He adds:

"I welcome Palmer's repudiation. I have no desire for the support of such men. I shall not again answer or refer to the shiny attacks of the men who wish to destroy this chance for the redemption of Pennsylvania."

CHAPTER VII.

The Japanese.

According to the talk of the German diplomats before the war the expectation was that Japan's power would be used against America at the first opportunity. Whether the object of this campaign was to stir up trouble between Japan and America or only to awaken this country to a sense of the danger which the Germans professed to believe threatened her I don't know. I do know, however, that prospect of a Japanese-American war seemed to worry the Germans considerably more than it worries us.

The day England declared war against Germany, August 5, 1914, the Prince von Pless called to see me professionally.

"There will be two wars fought," he said, oracularly. "The present one, by which we shall gain control of the continent of Europe forever, and then a war with the yellow races, in which we shall probably have your country to assist us."

That this opinion was more or less general in Germany may account for the fact that from the time war was declared until August 23, 1914, when Japan declared war against Germany, the Japanese residents in Berlin were made the subject of the most sickening attentions. It was reported that Japan was going to attack Russia, and the Germans could not do enough to show their newly born admiration for the yellow race which they had hitherto so deeply despised. The Japs were carried through the streets on the shoulders of the populace and kissed and cheered wherever they appeared in public.

And then Japan declared war against Germany! Instantly there was wild demonstration in the streets of Berlin, which would have resulted most disastrously for the Japs who had so recently been hailed as friends but for the astonishing fact that every single Jap had succeeded in getting away from Berlin before the news of Japan's entry into the war became generally known.

In the absence of Japanese upon which to vent their spleen, the Germans did everything they could to make life miserable for those who resembled Japs. The few Chinese who were there were tormented either because they were taken for Japs or because they were of the same race. The Siamese minister, Prince Traidos, who was one of my patients, told me that when his wife and children went out on the streets the crowds followed them and jeered, referring to the Japanese as monkeys, and using other opprobrious epithets. They even went so far as to spit in Princess Traidos' face, and the minister finally decided to send her and the children to Switzerland, although he himself remained at his post.

I saw the Kaiser shortly after the Japanese declaration of war, and he was very bitter against the United States because of that development. "What is your president thinking of to allow a yellow race to attack a white race! Now the Japanese are attacking Kiao-Chau, and America could have prevented it. All that America had to do was to raise a finger and Japan would have known enough to keep her place!"

He spoke in this strain on several subsequent occasions.

When Kiao-Chau fell he again criticized the United States for not having stopped Japan.

"How can your president allow Japan to increase in power at the expense of a white race?" he asked, indignantly. "Now China is lost to the world forever. America is the one power that could have prevented it, but now Japan has got her fingers on China and she is lost to us forever."

After we were in the war, the Kaiser expressed to me his opinion that our object in taking this step was fourfold:

"First," he said, "Wilson wants to save the money you have loaned to the allies. Second, he wants to have a seat at the peace table. Third, he wants to give your army and navy a little practical experience—unfortunately, at our expense. And fourth, and principally, he wants to prepare for the war with Japan which he knows is inevitable. The Japanese are the ones which your country must look upon as its real enemies."

A German officer of high standing told me just before I left Berlin that America had made the great mistake of sending ammunition, guns and supplies to Russia, via Japan, because Japan had just returned the finally made American strokes and had dumped on Russia a lot of good-for-nothing material of her own in their place. "My advice to America," he declared, "is to cut the throat of every Japanese in America and get rid of the infernal danger." He did not suggest cutting the throats of all the undesirable Germans who were in Amer-

PRESIDENT TO TAKE A HAND IN STRIKES

Washington, Sept. 13.—The government will brook no interference with war industry, President Wilson announced today in a notice served on labor and industry. He called upon the striking munition workers at Bridgeport to return to work immediately under threat of a boycott against further government employment of any kind, and loss of appeal from draft on industrial grounds. He threatened Smith & Wesson Company of Springfield, Mass., with government seizure because of their refusal to accept federal mediation.

205,000 OFFICERS AND 3,500,000 MEN IN ARMY AND NAVY

Washington, Sept. 10.—There are 205,000 officers in the United States Army and Navy today, 185,000 being army men and 20,000 navy men.

Before the Mexican trouble the traditional army of the United States was about 25,000 men on paper, with about 5,000 officers.

The 205,000 officers command about 500,000 sailors and marines and about 3,000,000 men of the army. There will be more than 185,000 officers in the army when there shall have been added the 2,000,000 men that General Crowder is now counting on sending to Europe.

The total number of men in the army by July will be nearly 4,000,000 and in the navy 750,000. Officers say there is no absolute ratio on which to calculate how many officers will be in the service of the army and navy by July 1, 1919.

THE RETURNS ARE ALWAYS THREE FOLD

It pays to advertise in The Progress. The other day a West Side lady broke her glasses and lost one eye glass and part of the frame. She wanted to recover it of course and having had previous satisfactory experience, at once took advantage of the want ad section of The Progress. A little three line ad did the business and on the evening of the first day's publication brought to this office no less than three different "one eyed" glasses. The one advertised for was among the number.

Of the men who registered yesterday the first to be called should be in the service before Nov. 1. They will come from those who are nineteen
and twenty and between thirty-two
and thirty-six, inclusive. The boys of eighteen are to be held until last, as
announced by Provost Marshal General Crowder at the time the Man-Power Bill was pending in Congress.

Ahead of them the class between thirty-six and forty-five will be drawn
upon.

Of the new registrants first subject to call for military service it is estimated that over 1,400,000, for the most part under twenty-one years of age, will be available for general
service. If the same rate of mobilization is maintained as during the last four months they will practically all
be in training before the winter is over. As fast as troops are moved overseas, drafted men will be sent to the camps to fill their places.

The War Department's programme
calls for 3,000,000 Americans in France next June and 1,000,000 more in training in this country. It has been officially stated that 1,000,000
have been transported abroad. By
Nov. 1 the 2,000,000 mark will be reached. By that time today's registrants will be in process of classification by the local boards and will be going forward. By next spring the class of men over thirty-two will probably be exhausted and the eighteen-year-old class will then be mobilized. In the mean time, if need be, the President may order the registration of all persons attaining the age of eighteen, among which should be every year fully 600,000 qualified for service.

The size of the army to be raised under the Selective Service Act for foreign service will depend primarily upon the number of transports at the disposal of the Government. If there are ships enough the men transferring

SHAPIRO'S CLOSED MONDAY

Closed all day Monday on account of holiday.
LOUIS SHAPIRO

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

Registration day took the time of a good many men yesterday. Some of the industries had scarcely enough men left to man the machinery.

Mrs. Geo. Gray, of Clearfield, was a Curwensville caller yesterday, visiting her sister, Mrs. Martha Broome.

Despite the inclemency of the weather the apron sale held in the M. E. church last evening was a financial success and the Ladies Aid received a nice sum from their venture.

With two well equipped printing offices in town it would hardly seem necessary for merchants to send out for their printing, yet some of them do it. "Feed me and I'll feed you," is an old adage that both printer and merchant should follow.

Several parties who want to come to Curwensville and locate, having secured good situations, were in town the fore part of the week looking over a number of houses with the idea of making purchase. Most of the places seemed hardly pretentious enough for them, hence no sales were made.

Mrs. Isaac Black received a card from her son Clyde Black, who is at Camp Lee, informing her that he sails for France the first of next week. He has been instructed and will run a large motor army truck after he lands in France.

The curfew law idea has taken root, and the subject will come up before council for discussion at no distant day. It is the only way that children of tender years can be kept off the street at night.

O. J. Baker is arranging for the sale of his properties and other possessions here prior to his removing to a town near Philadelphia.

The many friends of Editor Short of the Republican are pleased at the appointment as a Deputy U. S. Marshall for this district. Short deserves some recognition at the hands of his party. Here's that he will make a successful and prudent officer.

Painter Harry Robinson says it is not safe at this time for a contractor to bid on painting buildings as the paint prices jump around so irregularly that a bid today would not do for tomorrow. He says that day work now is the only safe way to play the game.

The over the sea casualty list is read with much interest by Curwensville people as published in the Progress each day. As yet no Curwensville boys has been so unfortunate as to meet death in a foreign land.

The Crescent band was out last evening and furnished music for the apron sale in the M. E. church.

To Our Friends and Patrons:

Last you be lead into a misunderstanding, please note the following: We announced in these columns last week, that the CURTIS PUBLICATIONS would advance their rates, effective OCT. FIRST. (Which advice we have direct from Publishers—HENCE THE AD.) At same time soliciting Subscriptions and RE-NEWALS AT OLD PRICES, adding DO IT NOW AND SAVE MONEY. Suffice to say, we have been among you here too long for any reader to misconstrue our NOTICE. We could not expect to win or merit your business tomorrow by unfair methods today. We would again remind you of this AD. COME IN or TELEPHONE. At your service always,
Respectfully,
T. & R. K. WAY.

OSCEOLA MILLS

Miss Meecham, of Wilkinsburg is a visitor at the home of Rev. S. T. Lewis this week.

Miss Clare Good left for New York City on Wednesday where she will visit her friend Miss Helen Walters who has been ill at a hospital in that city for several weeks. We are glad to learn that her condition has materially improved.

All of the men employed at Monahan No. 10 mine have renewed their membership in the Red Cross organization and have paid into the treasury $157.00 for the membership fee. The miners at this mine are 100 per cent.

Mrs. Fred Henry and little daughter, of Lewistown is visiting former friends in town this week.

There was 325 registrations at this place yesterday and the work passed off very smoothly under the efficient management of Dr. Robert Jackson and his well qualified board. On account of the destruction of the Fire Co. building by fire last month the registration was to have been held in the new auto garage but as this building is not yet completed the Social club very graciously gave the board the use of their nicely furnished rooms in the McCann building. There was no provision made for the registrants who live adjacent to the borough in Rush township and the men were obliged to travel either to Sandy Ridge or Philipsburg a distance of four miles that they might register. An Austrian presented himself to the local board who learned that although he worked at the Brick Works here lives in Center county just across the line and he was informed he would have to go to one of the above named places to register. He left but returned again and informed the board that he wanted to register and that he wanted to do it here, adding that this was the last chance he would give them to register him and that he would not go anywhere else to do it. An Italian came straggling into the room about 10 p. m. and informed the board "Some one tell him he could come at 11 o'clock". He was advised to report at Houtdale on Friday.

There will be an interesting patriotic service held in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening in honor of the men in the service. The double male quartette of Houtdale will be present to assist.

This is a win the war Store, each month brings a deeper meaning of this phrase to each of us, and knowing this we have bought our stocks accordingly, we have taken into our stock only such items as we feel are of known quality, even tho the prices are a trifle higher, than goods of lower quality. Some one has said:

"Mere Cheapness is waste,
Cheapness with Quality is saving."

As you walk through our store we want you to keep this one thought in your mind—Here you can buy merchandise at the lowest possible prices at which it is possible to produce and market good Merchandise.

You may buy a dress for $5.00 or you may buy one for $25.00 in either case you have received the best possible value at the price. One thing in particular which we desire to call your attention to at this time is SWEATERS.

We handle the celebrated Bradley line, both for men and for women the colorings, and designs are exceptionally fine, and the prices range from Five Dollars to Sixteen fifty.

Another is the celebrated glove line made by P. Sente Marie in Grenoble, France. This has been one of the leading gloves for the past forty years. It might be of interest to our customers to know that the Sente Marie works are now doing government work.

We have a lot of Fashionable Wool Velour Coats, good quality cloth Bafin Seal cross over collar, lined throughout with a good quality sateen. We have these in Brown, Navy, Plum and Taupe at Twenty Five Dollars.

Here we have a coat of all wool silvertone velour with a large circular collar, tailored style, finished cuffs are button ornamented. Fancy belt button trimmed. Two large pockets trimmed with buttons, plaited back, half lined with mercerized sateen, an exceptional value at Forty Five Dollars.

An all wool Burella Cloth coat is here, this coat has a value far beyond most coats so reasonably priced, large shawl collar which can be buttoned up around the neck, novelty cuffs and pockets, original belt, half lined with a good grade Venetian Cloth, all seams bound, you may take them at Twenty Two-Fifty and Twenty Five Dollars.

We have a coat for Misses designed with a large Military Collar, fashionably shaped shoulders, button trimmed cuff, inverted plaited back, the around belt is trimmed with buttons and fastens at the front with a buckle. This coat has Military buttons, and is lined throughout. Khaki Color, or, and the price; Nineteen Fifty.

New millinery now on display. More "spirit" to the lines—more study of the contour valuation in size and brim treatment and crown heights—and the most flattering "little touches".

Attractive prices.

Milady's new shoes for fall and winter have arrived and are now on display. These shoes are all in accordance with the war board's ruling, and are very attractive. Note the cloth top, leather vamp shoe especially. Spats will be worn extensively.

WORLD'S SERIES MONEY

The Boston Red Sox again are the champions of the baseball world. For the world's series just closed each Boston player drew down $1208.45, while the Chicago players got $671.60 for losing.

Fred Young, of the Red Sox, who enlisted in the navy got a furlough from the Great Lakes training station to play in the series and his mate, gave him $750 out of the series melon.

Ten per cent. of the players share was contributed to the different war charities.

POWERFUL PILE REMEDY DISCOVERED

Has Never Failed to End Most Obstinate Case of Piles in a Few Days

For years it has been proved that so-called external remedies applied to or inserted in the rectum cannot cure piles and at the best can only give temporary relief. Surgical operations also do not remove this cause, but simply the formation.

This wonderful prescription, known as Miro Pile Remedy, is so efficient in the treatment of piles, that even chronic cases of from 20 to 30 years standing with profuse bleeding have been completely cured in from three to ten days. Think of it! Just a few doses of a carefully balanced prescription and the most persistent case of piles is absorbed, never to return.

Just read what Henry J. Stone of the Lorain, Ohio, Fire department says: "I had bleeding and protruding piles for three years and tried all kinds of remedies without result but was thoroughly cured after taking one bottle of Miro."

Frank J. Phillips of Bird Island, Minnesota, says: "I used half a bottle of Miro. It worked like a charm. I no longer suffer with bleeding and protruding piles. I never regreted the money for such blessing as I am now enjoying. I would have used the whole bottle, but it was not necessary."

All physicians dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it is worth the little trouble to obtain it to be rid of piles forever.

IMPORTANT: What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.

"A PAIR OF SILK STOCKINGS"
DRIGGS THEATRE TONIGHT

The title "A Pair of Silk Stockings" has been applied to the play being presented at the Driggs theatre this evening, because in the story this important part of a woman's outfit had much to do with the reuniting and bringing happiness to a pair of married lovers who had gone through the divorce court.

Sam and Molly Thornhill had been as happy as it is possible for a newly married couple could be until the green-eyed monster jealousy invaded their home. Little things soon become big and to make a long story short the once happy pair are divorced.

Sam goes to the country to try to forget his unhappiness in solitude. Molly tries to forget her unhappiness by having a good time. She is on a motor trip when near the country place where Sam is staying the automobile breaks down. How the couple are reunited and the pair of silk stockings play in the reconciliation would make as long a story as it is interesting and the comedy must be seen to be appreciated. The play is full of wholesome mirth and is one of the best of the recent New York successes.

Tomorrow afternoon the players will present the musical comedy success "Very Good Eddie" this delightful offering delighted a packed house Wednesday evening and is repeated by request of many who were unable to secure seats at the first performance. The school children bring filled with laughs and song hits. Children are admitted for fifteen cents, adults twenty-five cents.

Saturday Night "Birds of Prey"

Saturday night Joseph Noel's stirring drama "Birds of Prey" will be offered. It is a play that has divorced for its theme. It shows that men get the laughter, the song and the wine and pay with a little love—then go on their way and laugh and live again. But what happens to the poor girl with but one standard of right and wrong is the big subject that is exhibited. It will be staged with a full cast of characters and all the scenic settings to make it pleasing and entertaining.

WATCH YOUR STEP TODAY

For the first time in 1918 good old St. Jinx will hold high carnival today. The pretty custom of celebrating the day has not yet become universal, but it is believed likely that the Germans on the western front will be initiated into the practice today by the soldiers of the Allies.

The popularity of St. Jinx's carnival is making distinct progress, for it is noticed now that many more people are unlucky are unlucky on Friday, other year or two most of us will be willing to accept a two-dollar bill or walk under a ladder in honor of the saint.

If you are lucky enough to be unlucky today, you will be proud to know that you are doing your part. Do not be ashamed to admit your little help in this, whatever it may have been. Perhaps you have only managed to break your favorite golf stick or been obliged to pay the penalty for your poor judgment in picking the winner of the world's series. But have heart, next time you may have to go without sugar in your coffee or buy a new suit of clothes at wartime prices.

SAVE YOUR AWNINGS

Awning material is out of sight in price and will be farther away next spring. Your awning has served its purpose this summer and there is no need for it hanging out in the elements—now, being destroyed. You can save money and obey your government's conservation orders by having your awnings taken down now and stored until needed next spring. We will take them down at little cost (store them for you without charge) and put them up again in the spring for you. Act now, every day you delay is costing you money.

Gossip for Tonight's Tea Table

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ball of Hillsdale, received word that their son, James, has been made corporal of his machine gun squad. Corporal Ball is only 16 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Hull, of Woodland, have received a card that their son Ray has arrived safely over seas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Easton Ross who have been living at Claysburg Pa. for some time have returned again to Clearfield. Mr. Ross has accepted a position with the Clearfield Electric Supply Co.

Mrs. Harry Hughes, of Middletown, Pa., will arrive in Clearfield this evening and will visit with Mrs. D. W. Speck on West Market street.

EXPERT HERE

Captain F. E. Winter, formerly in charge of State Highway headquarters for this district, was in Clearfield today enroute back to duty at Washington following a brief furlough spent with his family at DuBois.

Capt. Winter has been connected with the camp and road construction forces of the army and helped locate and prepare the ground for Camp Colt, the tank instruction camp at Gettysburg.

He expected to go to France with Lt. Col. Kerr's 23d Engineers, but was detailed for duty in the purchasing department of the construction corps. He hopes to be assigned to overseas duty in the near future and is anxious to get into the big mixup "over there."

BOWLERS ATTENTION

There will be a meeting of the Bowling league next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The purpose of this meeting is to elect a new president in place of Mr. McWhinney, who had to resign on account of being called into army service.

There will also be committees appointed for the making of the schedule etc.

HUNTERS SHOULD BE POSTED

The State Game Commission have already issued their usual notice to sportsmen regarding the provisions of the game laws as they affect the different counties of the state.

We will note that it is illegal to kill any wild turkeys, quail, grouse, ring neck pheasants, Virginia and Hungarian quail in Clearfield county this year.

Deer, bear squirrels and rabbits may be legally killed by Clearfield county sportsmen.

TWO BOYS IN SERVICE

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hess received a card from their son, Private Ames Hess, announcing that he had arrived safely overseas.

Their other son, Private Fred Hess, has been in France with the 23 U. S. Infantry for more than a year and in a recent letter says he is getting along fine.

TWO IN ONE FAMILY

Frank Kittelberger and his son and H. L. Connelly and son William were among the local double barreled registrants yesterday.

The "old man" and the young man in each family walked into the registration booth together on thus 18 and 45 enlisted as Kaiser hunters, if the Fates so will it.

Instant Postum

has a peculiar importance these days, not alone on account of its wholesome purity as a table beverage, but because of its labor-saving convenience.

No Boiling Necessary

Made instantly by placing a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water, stirring, and adding cream or milk. Little or no sugar is needed.

"There's A Reason"

Our Fall Opening Portrays in Complete Assemblage the Favored Fashions of The Season

Aside from the fact that a definite knowledge may be gained of the Fashions for the forthcoming season, there is also the opportunity of securing in one visit a complete knowledge of costs and value.

And the modes are so unique and appealing, they reveal so many adaptations, so many beautiful ideas and so many practical styles that you are sure to become intensely interested the very first time you examine them.

The exhibit will continue Saturday.

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART; IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. It attacks all classes, regardless of age, sex or conditions. A majority of the ill affecting people today can be traced back to the kidney trouble.

The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filters, the purifiers, of your blood. If the poisons which are swept from the tissues by the kidneys, disease of one form or another will claim you as a victim.

Kidney disease is usually indicated by weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, difficulty when urinating, pain in loins and lower abdomen, full stones, gravel, rheumatism, scalds and lumbago.

All these derangements are nature's
